

GHOST MAN ON THIRD

WAKA Kickball • MA Minuteman Division • Spring 2011,
Volume 4

LINKS TO INFO

Spring 2011 Schedule

Kickball Rules

Division Website

Twitter

TEAMS

BALLers

Balls Deep

Banana Mustache

Controlled Chaos

Got TigerBlood?

I'M WINNING

Kicking and Screaming

Kicking It Old School

Multiple Scorgasms

Ninjas

Off In The Shower

Smash Squad

Stewies Sexy Party

The Situation

Ultimate New Kicks

Conglomerate

Where My Pitches At

WEATHER CANCELLATIONS:

There have been a lot of questions regarding weather cancellations. WAKA allows (encourages) games to be played even in bad weather. They DO NOT allow us to play during lightning. However, Somerville Parks and Recreation are very protective of their field conditions, and will cancel if they haven't dried out. If there is a cancellation, I will update twitter and send an email by 7pm the night of the game. If you receive no email or twitter update, the games are still on.

Upcoming Games:

Monday, May 30 NO GAMES MEMORIAL DAY

8:15 – Field A

8:15 – Field B

9:15 – Field A

9:15– Field B

Wednesday, June 1 Equip: The Situation

8:15 – Field A

Off in the Shower v.

Ninjas

Refs: The Situation

8:15 – Field B

Controlled Chaos v.

Got Tigerblood?

Refs: Kicking&Screaming

9:15– Field A

The Situation v.

Ultimate New Kicks Cong.

Refs: Ninjas

9:15 – Field B

Smash Squad v.

Kicking and Screaming

Refs: Controlled Chaos

Contact GMOT

Please send all scores, recaps, photos, beer, praise, and miscellaneous content to mrose@kickball.com.

Game Recaps:

crappy reader-submitted content

The Ballers lost to Balls Deep 6-3. Josh had some great fielding and Jeff smacked a girl in the face with a ball.

Controlled Chaos vs The Situation (2-0):

It was a hard fought battle as each side held the batting team to 3-5 runners per inning.

Although the opposing pitcher was tremendous, having most of us popping out with his amazingly fast and dizzying pitches, we managed to eek out 2 runs (Migs you surely deserve to have earned our 3rd run).

Stewies - 6, New Kicks - 2.

Oh it was ladies night, and the feeling was right. Due to a combination of injuries, travel, and a concurrent soccer game, Stewies Sexy Party was left with only 5 guys and 7 ladies for their game against New Kicks. Things looked bleak, but we managed to overcome the odds and some tough pitching to pull out a 6-2 victory. In her pitching debut, Kristin threw a great game. Guido made some solid throws from 3rd base. Tom kicked a pair of doubles to bring some Sexy Partiers in to score. All the ladies played well, making some big catches and getting on base (perhaps it was the power of the new homemade tutus that some had).

Kicking It Old School v Kicking and Screaming (4-4):

It's the bottom of the 5th and Kicking it Old School is down by two after a shocking inside-the-park homerun from Kicking and Screaming. Old School wasn't daunted by Kicking and Screaming's unwillingness to go down without a lot of kicking and screaming and came back with a clutch offensive push in the bottom of the 5th.

Andrew "I don't care if we're down by two in the bottom of the 5th" LeFleur brought in a run with a beautifully placed kick to center. Up next and unwilling to be shown up by Drew was Adam "#@$! pressure" Sweetland. He made pure artwork out of the gap Screaming had in their right field to bring in the game tying run.

Got Tigerblood?— Although they put out a tremendous effort on Wednesday they suffered a 0-2 loss, but are still proud of their accomplishments on and off the field! We might not have won on the field, but we definitely were winners off the field at the BAR! Collectively, we took over 40 shots for 12 people! The Bartender told me the red team were nutz with all those shots! So that means the expectations has been set... things only get crazier going forward! Just a recap of our game...Sam our pitcher had an impressive night throwing that mean heater with only allowing 2 runs...i should take credit for at least one of the runs as I drop one of the balls! (won't happen again). Alyssa played her part as the catcher with the trash talking confidence that derailed each kicker as they rolled up to the plate...Addison and Alan, gets the gold glove awards for catching all the pop flies without breaking a sweat. Beth or is it Burt? =) gets the best nick name award! Julie and Hannah did a great job leading the way with the contagious smile as they kick the balls with their knees! Tony and Chad continued to carry the team with the clean-up spot! Matt with the almost impressive home-run kick in the end - but was called back for running outside the box! Darn bookworms ref! And Tori for the impressive dance moves on the bar top - oh wait...that didn't happen yet!

Where my Pitches (2-0): MVP and the play of the Game is when Captain Dan Swartz playing in the outfield had a pop fly come to right field ball whacked him in the face and he then proceeded to bobble it 2-3 times in the air ending up with the catch to get the out.

SCOREBOARD

| | | | |
|--------------------|---|---|--------------------|
| Off in the Shower | 6 | 7 | I'M WINNING |
| BALLers | 3 | 6 | Balls Deep |
| Stewies Sexy Party | 6 | 2 | Ultimate New Kicks |
| Controlled Chaos | 2 | 0 | The Situation |

| | | | |
|-----------------------|---|---|----------------------|
| Smash Squad | 0 | 1 | Multiple Scorgasms |
| Banana Mustache | 6 | 3 | Ninjas |
| Kicking It Old School | | | Kicking & Screaming |
| Got Tigerblood? | 0 | 2 | Where My Pitches At? |

MID-SEASON PARTY
GOLF PROS AND TENNIS HOS
SATURDAY JUNE 11, 7-9PM
HONG KONGS HARVARD SQ.

MA Minutemen Charities CureSearch and Kick-It:

CureSearch is a national non-profit foundation dedicated to finding a cure for children's cancer by funding research. CureSearch supports the Children's Oncology Group (COG), the world's largest children's cancer research collaborative. The COG has played a role in nearly every child's cancer breakthrough in recent history. By supporting the COG at more than 178 hospitals nationwide, treatment is available in children's hometowns. Locally, CureSearch donates to Dana-Farber Cancer Institute, University of Massachusetts Medical School, and Massachusetts General Hospital Cancer Center. Children in your area are receiving help and hope from your fundraising leadership!

CureSearch is pleased to announce a partnership with Kick-It: a national fundraising program that started with a 10-year old cancer patient, Quinn Clarke, with a big dream of curing cancer by playing kickball. The concept has spread across the country and thousands of people have been inspired to raise money for childhood cancer research. Proceeds from Kick-It games benefit CureSearch. View Quinn's story at <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=OpHrBqmS2GA>. You can visit www.curesearch.org and www.kick-it.org to learn more!

Tip of the week

Be nice to your refs
and buy them a beer.

"Beer is living proof that God love us and wants us to be happy." -Benjamin

How To Meet Kickball Guys Without Seeming Like a Stage V Clinger: A Practical Guide

Step 1. Get their Attention

Adult Male Homosapiens, much like the Adult Male Raccoon, are attracted to bright and shiny objects, so make sure you're wearing your tightest, shiniest spandex and hot pink shorts (although homemade tutus also work).

Step 2. Hold their Attention

Adult Male Homosapiens are easily distracted, tempted to look at other shiny female players, big red bouncy balls, and even worse, Big Screen TVs at Sambas and Bruins Games...make sure you keep their attention. You can do this by casually bumping into them, "Oh, sorry I didn't see your big strong muscles standing in the way of 2nd base" (appreciatively eye and grope abs/arms while you are saying this). You can also do this by spilling a little beer on your shirt at the flipcup table while saying, "Oh shoot, I'm so klutzy, I got myself alllllll wet" (bonus points for asking them to help dry you off).

*Note: Booty Dropping to "Single Ladies (Put a Ring on It)" while drunkenly waving around your ring finger is NOT the appropriate way to get their attention. This will cause said males' balls to retract into his body and force them to run out of Sambas as fast as they can.

Step 3. Seal the Deal

Buy a pitcher of beer, pour them a glass, put it in their hand, and say "I need you to drink this, because you need to be hydrated when I drain your body of all its fluids."

Or

"Nice cleats, wanna screw?"

Or

"Is there a keg in your pants, because I'd like to tap that ass"

Although there are 3 steps in this practical guide, please note that there can be just 1: buy them a pitcher of beer and grab them by their big red bouncy balls. Easy, simple, straight to the point.

SEND ME PICTURES!