- 1. The Undigestables — They haven't look back since getting their first lost and been dominating teams. They may have a problem this week as they face Holes beware again the only team to give them a couple of losses the last two seasons. They will have to face This Shucks! as well. Can they keep up the domination?
- 2. Holes Beware — They have been on a hot streak as of late winning most of their games. They will have a tough match up this week against Dream destroyers and The Undigestables lets see the winning streak continue and upset the defending champs.
- 3. Baggin' and Braggin' — They have been having their ups and downs but more ups lately keeping them at number three in the power rankings. They have a couple of hard teams this week which could upset them if they are not on their game this week against Tech Q and Shucking Awesome.
- 4. Amateur Cornstars — They had a rough week last week against Holes Beware and Baggin and Braggin to lose some spots in the power rankings. They can make it up this week against Shucking Awesome and This Shucks! The 2 seed is still there for their taking if they show some dominance the next two weeks.
- 5. TechQ — They play well than they dont. This team can beat anyone but in the same time they get cold and anyone could beat them. They need to find out how to stay hot every week to move up the power rankings. Lets see what they bring against We So corny and Baggin and Braggin
- 6. This Shucks! — They have been getting the wins and are 500 in the regular standings but they have a really tough week this week. If they can get some upset wins they may just move up the power rankings they first got to take down Amateur Cornstars and The Undigestables.
- 7. Shucking Awesome— They have stumble a little bit hear of late but still in the mix to move up in the official standings. They will have to take down Amateur Cornstars and Baggin and Braggin first though.
