

What is WAKA's refund policy?

WAKA does not offer refunds once you have registered for a league season, with the following exceptions:

- the season is canceled before official league play begins
- medical incapacity before the start of the league season (requires doctor's note to local customer service representative)
- call-ups to military service before the start of the league season (requires documentation to local customer service representative)

By completing your registration, you agree to WAKA's Refund Policy. [Back to top]

Player movement between leagues:

If you sign up for a league and it fills prior to your group signing up, we can move you to another league if:

- It's the same sport and same price.
- The league you signed up for has not started.
- The league you want to move to has not started.
- There is space in the league you want to move to.

If you sign up for a league and can no longer play, we can move you to another league if:

- It's the same sport and same price.
- The league you signed up for has not started.
- The league you want to move to has not started.
- There is space in the league you want to move to.

